

I think its absolutely ridiculous for any sort of 'internet wire-tapping' to be even considered as legal. There is enough intervention in our (the people) daily lives that allowing the FBI to search my files will probably allow them to force us to strip naked and hand you our wallets and keys.

I find it offensive enough that the Patriot Act was even considered. There is a reason why the Carnivore project was spit back out.